No. of beneficiaries: 10 female & 14 Male
Date Of competition: 15/01/2018
Name of Judges: Mrs. Nausheen Parkar

INTRODUCTION:

The Beti Bachao Beti Padhao campaign is a social awareness initiative aimed at promoting gender equality and the education of the girl child. In line with this, a rangoli competition was organized with the theme of Beti Bachao Beti Padhao to raise awareness about the importance of educating and empowering girls.

Event Description:

The rangoli competition was held on Monday afternoon in the college campus. It was open to individuals for college students male & Female, and there was no entry fee. The participants were provided with the necessary materials, including colored powders and brushes. The competition was judged by a panel of five judges who were experts in the field of art and culture.

Themes and Creativity:

The participants showcased their creativity and imagination by creating rangolis that depicted the theme of Beti Bachao Beti Padhao. The rangolis were colorful, vibrant, and thought-provoking, reflecting the message of gender equality and the importance of educating girls.

Some of the rangolis showcased the journey of a girl from her birth to her education, while others depicted the challenges faced by girls in our society. A few rangolis depicted the role of parents, teachers, and society in shaping the future of the girl child. Overall, the participants did an excellent job of conveying the message of the Beti Bachao Beti Padhao campaign through their rangolis.

Winners and Awards:

After careful consideration, the judges announced the winners of the competition. The first prize was awarded to school girl who had created a rangoli depicting the journey of a girl from her birth to her graduation. The second prize was awarded to an individual who had created a rangoli showcasing the challenges faced by girls in our society. The third prize was awarded to a team of young boy who had created a rangoli depicting the role of fathers in promoting the education of their daughters.

Conclusion:

The rangoli competition on the theme of Beti Bachao Beti Padhao was a huge success, with participants showcasing their creativity and imagination in conveying the message of gender equality and the importance of educating girls. The competition helped raise awareness about the Beti Bachao Beti Padhao campaign and encouraged people to take action towards promoting the education and empowerment of girls in our society.

ORIENTATION PROGRAM FOR FYBMS & FYBCOM STUDENTS

Date of Event: 16 /8 /2021

No. of participants: 100 students FROM FYBMS

No. of participants: 100 students FROM FYBCOM

Topic: To Inform & Guide the students about the Mission & Vision of college, the rules & regulations & to give information about college & Teachers.

Name of Anchor: Miss. Shivani Singh

Introduction:

Our college conducted an orientation program for FYBMS and FYBCOM students. The aim of this program was to introduce the new students to the college environment, its culture, and the academic expectations. The program was held on 16th august, 2021 in the college class Room No.301. This report outlines the program's proceedings, feedback from the students and the faculty.

Program Proceedings:

The program started at 10:00 AM with a welcome speech by the principal. The principal addressed the students and talked about the college's history, vision, and mission. She emphasized the importance of discipline and academic excellence in college life.

This was followed by a presentation by the faculty members, who introduced themselves and their respective departments. They explained the curriculum and the various academic programs offered by the college. They also briefed the students about the co-curricular and extracurricular activities that the college offers.

Next, the college alumni association's representatives addressed the students and shared their experiences and success stories. They motivated the students and encouraged them to make the most of their college life.

The program then proceeded with an interactive session where the students had the opportunity to ask questions and clarify their doubts. The faculty members and the alumni association representatives responded to the queries and shared their insights.

After this, the students were given a campus tour, where they were shown the library, computer labs, sports facilities, and other important areas of the college.

The program concluded with a vote of thanks by the Dean of the college, Dr. Arundhati Chauhan

Feedback:

The orientation program was well-received by the students and the faculty. The students found the program informative and helpful in understanding the college's expectations and culture. They appreciated the efforts of the faculty and the alumni association in guiding them.

The faculty members also felt that the program was successful in achieving its objectives. They were happy to see the students' enthusiasm and willingness to learn.

Conclusion:

The orientation program for FYBMS and FYBCOM students conducted by Swayam Siddhi Mitra Sangh's Degree College was successful in introducing the new students to the college environment and academic expectations. The program was well-planned and well-executed, with valuable inputs from the faculty members and alumni association representatives. The positive feedback from the students and the faculty members indicates that the program was effective in achieving its goals.

The competition was conducted using a video conferencing platform and was attended by approximately 50 students from different colleges. The competition was facilitated by a team of experts who provided the participants with guidelines and rules for the competition.

The participants were asked to create posters on the theme of violence against women during COVID-19. The posters were expected to highlight the increase in incidents of domestic violence during the pandemic, the impact of such violence on women's lives, and the need to address this issue.

The participants were given 2 hours to create their posters, and they had to submit their final entries through email.

Judging Criteria:

The posters were judged based on creativity, originality, relevance to the theme and their impact. The judges comprised of a team of experts in the field of art and social sciences.

Winners and Prizes:

The competition was keenly contested, and the judges found it challenging to select the winners. Finally, three winners were selected, and they were announced during the award ceremony.

The first-place winner received a cash prize, a certificate of merit, and their poster was featured on the NGO's website and social media platforms. The second and third place winners received certificates of merit, and their posters were also featured on the NGO's website and social media platforms.

Impact and Outcomes:

The poster making competition on violence against women during (COVID) had a significant impact on the participants. The competition helped raise awareness about the increase in incidents of domestic violence during the pandemic and the need to address this issue.

The competition also had a positive impact on the college community. The participants were encouraged to share their posters and the message of the competition with their peers and families, which helped create a ripple effect of awareness and action in the community.

Conclusion:

The poster making competition on violence against women during (COVID) organized by the NGO and college was a successful initiative that aimed to create awareness about the increase in incidents of domestic violence during the pandemic and the need to address this issue. The competition had a positive impact on the participants and the college community and helped promote gender equality and empowerment in the region.

REPORT ON

ORIENTATION PROGRAM FOR FYBMS & FYBCOM STUDENTS

Date of Competition: 9 /7 /2022

No. of participants: 120 students FROM FYBMS

No. of participants: 120 students FROM FYBCOM

Topic: To Inform & Guide the students about the Mission & Vision of college, the rules & regulations & to give information about college & Teachers.

Name of Anchor: Miss. Maheshra Momin

Introduction:

Our college conducted an orientation program for FYBMS and FYBCOM students. The aim of this program was to introduce the new students to the college environment, its culture, and the academic expectations. The program was held on 7th July, 2022 in the college class Room No.301. This report outlines the program's proceedings, feedback from the students and the faculty.

Program Proceedings:

The program started at 10:00 AM with a welcome speech by the principal. The principal addressed the students and talked about the college's history, vision, and mission. She emphasized the importance of discipline and academic excellence in college life.

This was followed by a presentation by the faculty members, who introduced themselves and their respective departments. They explained the curriculum and the various academic programs offered by the college. They also briefed the students about the co-curricular and extracurricular activities that the college offers.

Next, the college alumni association's representatives addressed the students and shared their experiences and success stories. They motivated the students and encouraged them to make the most of their college life.

The program then proceeded with an interactive session where the students had the opportunity to ask questions and clarify their doubts. The faculty members and the alumni association representatives responded to the queries and shared their insights.

After this, the students were given a campus tour, where they were shown the library, computer labs, sports facilities, and other important areas of the college.

The program concluded with a vote of thanks by the Dean of the college, Dr. Arundhati Chauhan

Feedback:

The orientation program was well-received by the students and the faculty. The students found the program informative and helpful in understanding the college's expectations and culture. They appreciated the efforts of the faculty and the alumni association in guiding them.

The faculty members also felt that the program was successful in achieving its objectives. They were happy to see the students' enthusiasm and willingness to learn.

Conclusion:

The orientation program for FYBMS and FYBCOM students conducted by Swayam Siddhi Mitra Sangh's Degree College was successful in introducing the new students to the college environment and academic expectations. The program was well-planned and well-executed, with valuable inputs from the faculty members and alumni association representatives. The positive feedback from the students and the faculty members indicates that the program was effective in achieving its goals.
